Bremen.

Bremen, Dec. 3, 1895.

Otto Walter made a business trip to Plymouth Monday.

Clyde Coverston is visiting with friends at Plymouth.

John Castleman was transacting business in Plymouth Monday.

Will Weil returned Sunday morning from a several day's visit at Plymouth.

U. C. Schilt and Leonard Voegeli, of Plymouth, spent Sunday with friends in Bremen.

James Jordan and Hub, Edwards, of Mishawaka, were calling on friends in Bremen, Saturday and Sunday.

George Bondurant, of Chicago, is visiting with his father, Japha Bondurant of this place who is quite sick.

Fred Langenbach, of Plymouth, delivered a lecture to a crowded house at the U. B. church last Saturday evening.

John S. Fries and family, of Chicago, arrived in Bremen several days ago on an extended visit with Mrs. Fries' parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Felden.

Otto Breunlein and wife returned from South Bend last Friday. Mrs. Breunlein, who a week ago suffered from a stroke of paralysis, is much improved, yet she has entirely lost her speech and the use of the right arm.

A new society was formed at the home of Mrs. F. F. Knoblock last Wednesday which calls itself the Oak Leaf Cooking club. The society meets every two weeks and will hold its next session at the home of Mrs. Sanford Yockey.

The matrimonial market in Bremen seems to be somewhat on the decline. In former years from two to a half dozen weddings were generally slated for Thanksgiving but this year that day of thanks passed off without even an intimation of a wedding.

James B. Knoblock arrived in Bremen last Thursday from Aspen, Colo. James was a former Bremenite, but for a number of years has been located in the West. He is a stenographer in which capacity he is at present serving the general assembly of the state of Colorado and is also interested quite extensively in mining.

The directors of the Union State Bank at this place who have been attending court at Rochester returned home Saturday evening. The case with which they were connected was one in which H. G. Hess, former cashier of the bank was made defendant. The directors claiming that Mr. Hess had appropriated $2,000.00 of the bank's funds to his own use. After hearing the case the judge returned a verdict in favor of the directors, allowing them $1,695.00 with interest from the date of the discovery of crookedness, making a sum total of $1,880.00.

The Bremen Fair association held its annual meeting of stock holders in the engine house on last Saturday and re-elected all the old officers with the exception of treasurer and chief marshal. J. R. Dietrich was elected to the former position and William Redman to the latter.

Edward Hans arrived in Bremen Thursday evening from Danville, Ill., where he has been employed with an electric company of that city. Ed. took charge of the Bremen electric light and power plant on Friday evening, electrician Davis having resigned his position at this place to accept a more lucrative one at Albion.

TWIN LAKES.

Twin Lake, Dec. 5th.

Rev. Rothenberger will preach next Sunday at 3 o'clock.

Jacob Kreighbaum's visited with Wm Whites, last Sunday.

Samuel York returned last week from a week's visit with his father at Knox.

The Trinity S. S. have made arrangements for their Christmas entertainment.

Report says E. J. Hoff is giving good satisfaction as teacher at the Fertig school.

Norman Miller returned from Illinois yesterday after a sojourn of a few weeks.

Chas. Stuck and Wm. White, marketed some fine hogs at Plymouth, last Monday.

W. E. and A. B. White visited near Donaldson, last Saturday night and Sunday.

Wm. and Katie Dalrymple's brother of near Ft. Wayne, is visiting them for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Cook ate turkey with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Slater last Thursday.

Pearl Agler and Ruey Holm, visited with their parents over Sunday returning to their sewing at Plymouth on Monday.

Amos York has again had the misfortune of getting his hand in contract with a buzz saw. His fingers were quite severely cut.

The members of the Twin Lake S. S. meet at the church Saturday night to practice singing and make up a program for the Christmas entertainment.

LAPAZ.

Lapaz, Dec. 3, 1895.

The widow Abbott is on the sick list. Mrs. Waltz was on the sick list this week.

About forty scholars are attending the writing school.

Miss Unger, of Bourbon, is the guest of Miss Mary Schafer.

Maude Freshour is gaining slowly from a protracted illness.

Moses Loranzo has a five year old boy lying very low with a fever.

Miss McBride, living west of here, is the guest of Bertie Forsythe.

William Zehner, of Plymouth, was in the city making sales for his flour.

Mrs. Nettie Conger and children are visiting her brother, Schuyler McChesney.

Nettie and George Waltz gave an oyster supper to a small company last Thursday.

George Yoast, who has been laid up with a wounded hip, is again able to attend school.

Mr. and Mrs. Greg ate Thanksgiving turkey with her mother Mrs. Richardson at Tyner City.

Schuyler McChesney and wife were in Plymouth and vicinity visiting relatives Thanksgiving.

Dr. P. M. Jones, of Chicago, was in this place looking for a location. He decided to look further.

Byron Shirk and wife, of South Bend, and Henry Jarrel, of Tyner City, ate turkey with Mr. Henry Shirk.

The Library Club met at the residence of Druggist Schafer Thursday evening. "Woman's Suffrage" was debated upon.

Lapaz can boast of a natural toboggan slide, and several coasting parties have enjoyed some pleasant evenings in pulling their sleds up.

Miss Nellie Greg, who is attending school at Plymouth, was at home during vacation and entertained the coasting club Saturday evening.

Mr. Greg, our stove factory man is buying quite a large amount of timber, and is only waiting for better roads to set the machinery going.

The masquerade dance given by McMartin and Davenport at the Junction, Thanksgiving night was a success, both in numbers and enjoyable time.

A pickle factory is needed here badly, as many families near here who would like to raise pickles do not care about hauling them eight miles to a factory.

Louella Linville, who after a long and dangerous illness was able to ride about the country is again in bed. It seems the disease has settled in her back, causing her often times much misery. It has been three months since the beginning of her first attack.

A crowd of our monied men went to Union Mills last Tuesday to investigate the creamery plant there and may decide to put one up here. It looks good, better try it.

Misfortune still follows Lynn Reynolds in loading stock. This week a hog gave him a ten minutes ride, and then pitched him in the largest mud hole in the yards. He is able to be about, at this writing.

The Lapaz school gave a successful box social last Wednesday night for the benefit of the school library. Mr. Wm. Forsythe succeeded in bidding in the "booby" box, which contained a porker's raw tail, saur kraut etc., but no girl attached.

The library craze has struck this vicinity. Nearly all the township schools are busy organizing one. The Lapaz school and the library club are trying to make satisfactory arrangements for the combination of the two libraries.

Married, at the home of the bride, November 29, Guy Ames and Miss Bertha Murphy by Rev. D. C. Linville. Only the relatives and a few close friends were in attendance. Mrs. Murphy, who alone knows how to cater to the tastes of the famished had the table decked with the best in the land. May the pathway of the happy couple be always strewn with flowers.

Mr. Babcock has rented the Johnson hall at this place. Mr. McMartin his manager starts the ball rolling by giving a free dance December 14, '95, which will be followed by a few first class dances during the holidays. It has been the general opinion of strangers that the dances given here were only for toughs, etc. Our community does not deserve this brand, and assure all who wish to attend, that our dances are on top, when it comes to deportment on the dance floor.

THE LOCAL HOG MARKET.

Stock Yards a Busy Scene To-day—Hogs Moving Steadily on a Steady Market—Shipments From Plymouth are High Grade Stock.

From Thursday's Daily.

Activity has been the order at the stock yards in this city to-day and a shipment of from 300 to 400 of as fine hogs as were ever shipped from this market will be sent to the greatest pork packing city of the world to-night. This shipment will be made by Tribby & Hall and will represent only their purchases made during the first three days of this week. The hogs to be shipped will average a shade better than 250 pounds each and will make a high average in every other respect. The result of the careful breeding of thoroughbred swine, for which Marshall county farmers are noted, is apparent in nearly every specimen.

Tribby & Hall are among the heaviest shippers of live stock that ever operated in this country. They will also ship a car load of cattle tonight.

A Well Spent Evening.

The lecture by Mrs. Trego Wednesday evening, to the women of our city, was a revelation, divine in character, and there were present nearly one hundred of the best, most refined, intellectual Christian women of Plymouth. There were mothers with their daughters, mothers of young children, there were young wives, and gray haired women, whose children had left the fire side and formed homes of their own. The closest attention followed Mrs. Trego, in her exposition of the home training, true and false coming under her observation as an evangelistic worker, and truths were uttered, which we know will lead to practical application in some of the homes of our city. As we listened to the illustrations given the tears were wiped from many eyes, and we know many hearts were uplifted to the Father for help in our daily duties.

She spoke of the purity in the home—the same standard required for boys and girls, and the same charity shown to each, as they might be led astray, and of the practical teaching of the principles advocated and taught by the different departments of work in our organization. And now dear women, we ask you to come out and bring your husbands, sons and daughters, to hear Mrs. Trego as she continues her labors among us.
